

How to connect OpenAthens to third party applications

It is in the nature of federated access management in general and OpenAthens products in particular to use standards based approaches. This means that OpenAthens can interact with many things and we have been able to prepare some articles on several of those applications in our third party apps section.

The articles are supplied 'as-is' and our service desk can only provide support for the use and operation of our own products.